

Visit a farm in Gimmelwald

Together with a guide, you can immerse yourself in the daily life of a farmer and gain an authentic insight into traditional farming practices. Thomas Rubin, farmer in Gimmelwald, is opening his barn doors to give you a taste of the everyday workings of a busy mountain farm. Find out interesting facts about animal husbandry, the farm's own milk, cheese and sausage production, and learn about the cultivation of the surrounding Alpine meadows.

Highlights

- Get an insight into everyday life on a mountain farm
- See and pet farmyard animals up close
- Find out interesting facts about the production of cheese, milk and meat
- Sample fresh farm produce

Price: CHF 25.00 per person net / children up to 6 years of age free of charge

Duration: 1 hour

Contact and booking

Farm tours are available as guided tours only for groups of 4 (or equivalent minimum charge) or more people.

Book at: Schilthorn Cableway Ltd. / info@schilthorn.ch / +41 33 82 60 007

Good to know

- The cows spend the summer season (from May to November) out at pasture or on the alp. Calves and goats stay on the farm all year round.
- Access to some areas is restricted for safety reasons
- The farmhouse is the family's private residence and not a part of the tour
- Sturdy footwear is essential